This past year we watched petroleum prices increase almost daily forcing us to pay more for food, gas, and heat. Our price protection plans provided a shield from rising oil prices. For this upcoming season, gone are the "low" prices of last year and we are moving forward with prices at highs not seen since 2008.

We are asked daily, "What do you think will happen to future prices? Will oil go down?" The truth is anything is possible. Therefore, the best option to avoid price volatility for 2011-2012 is a Cap Protection Plan. This plan enables your price to go down if the market falls. It also prevents your price from rising above a preset limit.

Price Protection Options - Guaranteed Protection!

1. Price Cap with EZ Pay

- ★ Most Popular!
- If prices decrease, you pay less!
- If prices increase, you never pay more than cap.
- Payments are spread throughout the year!

2. Fixed Price

- Pay for oil in advance and be guaranteed a set price for specified gallons.

With unpredictable prices, our options put you in control!
